HONGRONG, MAY 5TH 1885.

Our remarks yesterday on the circumstances attending the release of LEE LUM KWAI seem to have given rise to some misapprehension. We said that "there was nothing in the pacriminal whose case called for exceptional consideration;" and "it is unfortunate His Excellency was not supplied with information beforehand which would have prevented the mistake." These statements have been | quin after coaling. construed to imply neglect or lackes on the part of the Colonial Secretary, who is responsible for laying all papers before the GOVERNOR. It is only fair, though perhaps hardly necessary, that we should explain we had not the slightest intention of imputing Andersen, has left for the Kwangsi frontier to ed largely from the judgments delivered in cerany neglect to Mr. Maksy personally. What attend on the wounded of the Chinese army. we objected to was the system which permitted, such a grievous mistake to be committed, as Co.'s steamer India was to be armed as a cruiser than make no order, the costs of this motion to we understood, unwittingly. If it can be at the disposal of Vice-Admiral Sir W. M. shown, however, that the blame rests on an Dowell individual rather than on the system it is only fair that it should fall on the shoulders of the-proper person. We are informed that Mr. Marsh laid all the previous papers bafore the Governor and specially called his attention to them: What these previous papers were we are not awars, but it was a fair interence to draw from the minute prepared by Mr. Marsh as a reply to the question put by the Hon. T. Jack con in the Lethe release of the prisoner could be prudentby allowed in view of considerations which would not ordinarily arise in connection: with applications for pardon. Mr. Jackson asked the Colonial Socretary if there was any objection to state the grounds on which the prisoner had been released. In reply Mr. Marsa said he was instructed by the GOVERNOR to state that the facts of the case were very simple: the privoner way released on the ground of his good conduct in gaol and the state of his health. If the objections to LEE LUM KWAY'S release on wha we may call semi-political grounds had been pardon was granted, it would have been only reasonable to suppose that in answer to Mr JACKSON's question the grounds on which those objections had been set aside would have from Calentta to Great Britain from 1st Jana led us to speak of the affair as having arisen from an inadvertence. The man entered into a long discussion as to why the contract should be taken from him, and after witness had explained the reasons to him, the plaintiff said "Well, give me some more work." Witness said he could not promise, but that if plaintiff would do the work for the same price as he could get it done for by other men he would rather employ him then any one else. The plaintiff thereupon assented to the arrangement Messra Bird and Palmer had -made. Witness sent Messrs. Bird and Palmer a cheque for $507.25. and a few days afterwards the contract was sent to him cancelled. A few days afterwards the plaintiff came again to witness's office saying he heard witness was getting some of the land filled in and asking to be allowed to de the work. Witness said there was a small bit on lot 182, not included in plaintiff's provious contract, and plaintiff expressed his willingness to do this for nothing if witness would let him have the whole contract back. This witness declined to assent to, but told him he could get the work done for $70 and that he (plaintiff) might have the job if he would do it for the same price. A few days afterwards plaintiff came again other day." Witness said-"No; you are getting on very well, you have nearly finished 182 I will give you 181. What will you do it for ? There was some conversation about the price and eventually plaintiff agreed to do the work at 15 cents a yard the total being $400. With ness prepared an agreement, which was read over to plaintiff on the 13th March, two days after the verbal agreement had been entered into He said it was all right and that on the follow ing day he would bring a Chinese friend to make a copy said that he would come himself and sign the agreement. The agreement was cure. The next day the plaintiff had the stipulated number of men-at work cutting and filling in lot 181. The second day there were fewer men, the third day fewer still, and progressively the number of men was diminished. However, the work was progressing and it was nearly finished as far as it could go on before the Praya was made, when on the 30th March witness spoke to the foreman on a matter of detail, and in the course of the conversation the foreman said he had never heard of the cancellation of the contract to which witness had made a reference. The foremen then came to the office and witness howed him the cancellation. The next day there were no men at work. He then sent for the plaintiff, but first he was sick and then he went to Canton. Witness made inquiries and found plaintiff's people were totally unaware of the cancellation of the contract, that there was a month's wages due to the men, and that they had received nothing of the $500 plaintiff had received on the 13th February, and they were in a state of considerable excitement. Witness was placed in a position of great difficulty, but proceeded with the work himself: Lo Ying's men were very willing to go on the next day, and a large portion of the work which Father Vigano put down to the credit of Lo Ying had been done by witness's own people. After the contract was cancelled the plaintiff never did work on any lots but 181 and 182. It was not true that no price was agreed upon for 182. He had never struck not signed, but it was prepared with the greatest the coolies, as stated by the plaintiff.

By Mr. Ewens—The contract was made on the 4th July, when he was absent in England. I said the whole of the lots were to be completed at the same time that the praya wall was completed. The wall was not yet completed. Antonio Baptista, the defendant's clerk, was then called and gave evidence to the effect that he had spoken to the plaintiff about the contract, and had noted as interpretor between the plaintiff and defendant, and that the plaintiff thorough. ly understood the contract was cancelled. The case was at this stage adjourned.

THE REBELLION IN KASHGARIA.

The Daily News of April 3rd, which was brought on by the Glenavon, publishes the following telegram from Vienna on the above subject, dated April 2nd:-" We learn from Russian source that the news of a rebellion having broken out in the Chinese Mahomedan province of Kashgar is confirmed. The population sent two nobles to their neighbour, the Khan of Bokhara, and also communicated with the Khans of Khiva and Afghanistan, the Indian Government, and the Czar. They asked for aid to enable the Mahomedans of Kushgaria to form an independent state, such as existed before 1878.
